

Cones-nection

Used to be that you had to drive all the way over to south Coral Bay to get a cone of frozen sugar liquid if you didn't want it to come with paper wrapped around it. Then the machine broke at Lilly's Licks and all we had was paper wrapped cones with all the nuts broken off.

BUT NOW, in north Coral Bay, at the Sputnik's Complex, just next door to Donkey's Pizza, what was earlier referred to as Paige's Palace of Pleasure, we have the opening of Coral Bay Cones...if they spelled that with two N's, we'd be talking lawsuit. But now we're just talking with our mouths full.

Volume 2, Issue 5

April 10, 2011

2 pages

FREE,for life.

St Paddy's Day 2011 @ Aqua Bistro, second night of Blue's Week celebrations. Angels wanna wear my red shoes!

It's been a while since we hiked deep into the bowels of old St John to find hidden treasure to show you, but here's a recent photo from wandering where only land crabs and mongoose roam.

GUESS THE LOCATION

and win a free subscription to the Coral Bay Correction. Do not send emails to the paperboy, he can't read, reply to:

stjohnusvi@earthlink.net

The Official band on the agenda for Thursday March 17th for this year's Coral Bay Blues Fest (the name we prefer for the festival) was Mojones Red Hot Rockin' Blues, live at Island Blues.

But when Coral Bay's own "Plays Everywhere" Bo and "Island Blues Boss" Jeff made up the better half of the band, we think someone didn't have their passport or maybe got snowed-in back in the old country.

Second QUIZ: what is this (left) and where is it found (other than in the Coral Bay C'rection)

SKULL PRODUCTIONS